“Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good,” declares the psalmist (Psalm 34:8, NRSV), calling us to experience the greatness of God through our very senses. And in Psalm 139, we are reminded that the same God who saw us in our mother's womb continues to see us in our every movement, our every thought and action, indeed, even searching us out—a very intentional form of seeing! And yet, most of us are also familiar with the parable about the man who gets beaten and left for dead at the side of the road; although a priest and the Levite see him, they move to the other side of the road and keep on walking. They see, but they also choose not to see. It takes the Samaritan to truly see this man, to see his needs, and to see the Samaritan's own responsibility in caring for his neighbor (Luke 10:29-37).

The 2015-2017 ministry focus “See...” gives us the opportunity to spend two years exploring how we are seen by God, how we see God, and how we are called to see the world through God's eyes.
