The Wilters:

What is “home assignment”? Home assignment, more properly termed “US/Puerto Rico Assignment,” is the time when missionaries temporarily come off the field and head back to their passport country. During this time, they attend special conferences for missionaries, help International Ministries with work stateside (such as the Biennial Convention and Hear the Call Retreats), enjoy some rest and time with family, and most importantly, visit the wonderful churches and individuals who have been so faithful in supporting them – as well as seeking new friends with whom to partner on our mission journey.

Are you moving back to the US for good? At this time, we still strongly feel God’s call to minister with the Karen people in Thailand. This home assignment will last for one year, and our plan is to return to Thailand at the end of May 2020, as long as we can build and maintain the support needed.

Where will you live? Well, that is a really good question... and one we wish we had the answer to! We know that God has the answer, and we are trusting Him to reveal it in His time. We feel pretty strongly that our children need to feel as “at home” as possible during this tough time of transition. Since we lived in Indiana for 15 years before moving overseas – and Indiana is where the majority of our supporters reside – we are currently looking to move back to Indiana for our home assignment time.

If you’ll be in the US, do you still need our support? YES! In fact, we need your support more than ever, because it is more expensive to live in the US than it is to live in Thailand. Plus, our time in the US is not a vacation

(although we will have some vacation time during the year, like most families do!) – we are still working, employed by IM, and we will in fact be quite busy during the year! We are thankful for all of our partners, and we are actively seeking to form new partnerships. If you'd like to become a part of God's work in Thailand by making a gift to IM on our behalf, you can do so by clicking the GIVE button above.

What will you be doing during this year in the US? Oh my, where to begin... the majority of our time will be spent visiting churches and individuals who have been so faithful in supporting us, and we look forward to those joyful reunions. We will also be seeking new churches and individuals to start new partnerships with us. We will also be partnering with Campbellsville University in Kentucky as visiting missionaries. Campbellsville began a new partnership with American Baptist Churches a few years ago, and we are excited to join them in their promotion of missions on their campus at various events throughout the school year
